The VeriCrux Protocol – Literary Ownership & Use Restriction Declaration

(Official Filing by Ronnie Bullens)

Description:

This document formally declares the original authorship, intellectual ownership, and restricted literary usage rights of The VeriCrux Protocol, a proprietary truth-analysis framework developed and solely authored by Ronnie Bullens. This entry is timestamped to preserve legal record and public proof of authorship.

The VeriCrux Protocol was created as a probabilistic civil trial model designed to simulate truth discovery using legal reasoning, Bayesian analytics, forensic simulation, and expert testimony modeling. The framework is applied to historically disputed events with the objective of calculating which hypothesis has the highest demonstrable probability under civil standards of proof. It is built with the explicit goal of defending factual integrity against official narrative manipulation and disinformation.

Intellectual Property Status:

Sole author and originator: Ronnie Bullens

No individual or entity besides Ronnie Bullens holds any rights to publish, adapt, or distribute The VeriCrux Protocol in literary, cinematic, academic, or derivative form.

Any book, screenplay, article, or multimedia publication created using The VeriCrux Protocol as a narrative engine or structural framework must be authorized in writing by Ronnie Bullens.

This protocol is currently being used in the creation of the official VeriCrux series of books, including:

VeriCrux: Truth on Trial

VeriCrux: Tribunal of the Hollow Crown

Disclaimer:

This protocol may be discussed or used for analytical purposes only in accordance with Fair Use and scholarly discussion. Unauthorized commercial or narrative application is prohibited.
